

The National University of Singapore Department of Civil & Environmental Engineering

Faculty Position in Hydrology/Water Resources Engineering

The Department of Civil & Environmental Engineering, National University of Singapore (NUS) invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the area of hydrology/water resources engineering. The candidate should hold a doctorate in civil/environmental engineering and with strong background and experience in stormwater management, urban hydrology and related resiliency. The opening is at the assistant professor level, but exceptionally well qualified applicants may also be considered at the associate professor level.

Postdoctoral experience is highly desirable. The successful candidate must be able to teach effectively in English at both undergraduate and graduate levels and develop an active research programme.

NUS offers internationally competitive remuneration, relocation assistance and other benefits. Newly recruited tenurable faculty members can apply for start-up grants to facilitate the establishment of their research and development in NUS. Details of start-up grants are available on https://staffportal.nus.edu.sg/staffportal/iw/resources/staffportal/research/docs/grants/ODPRT%20Start%20Up/DPRT_PP003_-_Revision_to_Start_up_grants_for_new_recruits\(v8\).pdf.pdf)

Interested candidates should send their detailed curriculum vitae, copies of transcripts, statements of research and teaching interests and professional goals, and the names of three referees to:
